CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Board of Directors of the American Association for Laboratory Accreditation

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of the American Association for Laboratory Accreditation (the Association) as of December 31, 1994 and 1993, and the related statements of revenue, expenses and changes in fund balance and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Association's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Association as of December 31, 1994 and 1993 and its revenue, expenses and changes in fund balance and cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION FOR LABORATORY ACCREDITATION

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Organization

The purposes for which the Association is organized and operated are exclusively charitable, scientific, or educational within the meaning of section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code including promoting scientific research and testing for public safety in all classes of technology by accrediting laboratories and otherwise furthering scientific research and testing in the public interest and welfare.

Furniture, Equipment, and Related Depreciation

Furniture and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is provided using the accelerated methods allowed by the Modified Accelerated Cost Recovery System of the Internal Revenue Code over predetermined lives of five to seven years.

Revenue Recognition

The Association receives application fees to initiate the accreditation and reaccreditation process. It is the Association's policy that in the event an applicant withdraws their application for accreditation or reaccreditation before the completion of the assessment process, they may apply for a refund of 50% of the application fee and all of the assessor deposits less all costs incurred to date in the assessment process. Therefore, half of the accreditation fee is recorded as revenue upon its receipt by the Association while the remaining half is deferred until the completion of the assessment process. Assessor deposits are deferred until the assessment is complete. At that time, the assessor deposit is recognized as revenue.

Membership dues are recorded as revenue on the day the membership period commences. Any membership dues received prior to the commencement date have been recorded as deferred revenue.

Cash Flow

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Association considers all demand deposits and certificates of deposits purchased with a maturity of less than three months to be cash equivalents.

2. Cash

The Association's cash is comprised of amounts in several accounts at various banks. While the amount in one account exceeds the amount guaranteed by federal agencies from time to time and, therefore, bears some risk, the Association has not experienced, nor does it anticipate, any loss of funds.
